

LIFE Application Calls for 2019

The EU Commission published the LIFE Calls for 2019 calls on the 4th April 2019, which involve proposal packages including application packages, timetables, list by project type and sub-programme. The applicants can be public body operating under a national government's authority such as local authority, national administration etc.; private commercial organisation; and private non-commercial organisation (NGOs etc.). The application calls are based on the current LIFE multiannual work programme and for each sub-programme on environment and climate action, there are four main types of projects: traditional, integrated, preparatory, and technical assistance projects.
